PROJECTS

Personal Portfolio Website Project

Creating my own portfolio website was a valuable learning experience. I improved my web design, development, and digital branding skills. It emphasized user-friendly design and enhanced my proficiency in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Crafting compelling project narratives taught me effective content presentation. My website now reflects my growth as a developer and designer. LINK

TODO-LIST PROJECT

Creating dynamic and user-friendly To-Do List application using JavaScript. This project allowed me to deepen my understanding of JavaScript, particularly in manipulating the Document Object Model (DOM) to enable real-time task management. Through this experience, I honed my skills in event handling, data storage, and interactive web development, ultimately gaining practical insights into creating responsive web applications. LINK
